SERIES INTRODUCTION POLICY FOR PSI 20[®] INDEX OPTION CONTRACTS

Executive Summary

This notice informs Members of the series policy for initially introduced series in the PSI20[®] Index Options Contracts (trading symbol: PSX) with effect from Monday 27 June 2016.

1. Introduction

- 1.1 Euronext Notice NO160614DE1, issued on 14 June 2016, informed members about the launch of options contracts on the PSI 20[®] index (trading symbol: PSX) on the Amsterdam derivatives market of Euronext.
- 1.2 This Notice describes the details of the series policy for the PSX options class. The series policy refers to the introduction of series with initial lifetimes of 1, 2, 3, 6 and 9 months.

2. Series introduction policy

- 2.1 The series policy determines the minimum number of series initially introduced and the intervals used to calculate the series based on the remaining lifetime of a specific maturity. Multiple intervals per maturity can be used as by definition the interval for the around the money series will be smaller compared to the interval for the deep in the money and deep out of the money series. Next to that the intervals will be smaller for series with a shorter remaining lifetime compared to the series with a longer remaining lifetime.
- 2.2 New series may be introduced on a daily basis to have at least the minimum number of series available for trading in relation to the PSI 20 index level.
- 2.3 In the situation of high volatile market conditions Euronext might decide to double the series intervals for a certain maturity, group of maturities or introduce additional series.
- 2.4 The following table shows the intervals used for the PSX options class:
