TTI Ramps Up Asia Pacific Regional Presence to Manage Business Growth

TTI (Travel Technology Interactive) has announced the expansion of its Regional Headquarters in Singapore, to support its strong business growth. TTI has grown some existing key functions and has also added new support services to the region. TTI is Headquartered in France, with Development Centres based in France and Brazil and with Regional Headquarters in Singapore and Panama.

The Asia Pacific Regional Headquarters growth sees existing functions, such as Help Desk, Training and Account Management teams increased in size, as well as the addition of a Technical team, to manage technical development and support.

Gregoire Echalier, CEO of TTI stated, 'The Asia Pacific region is critical to the overall global presence of TTI and I am pleased to see that our Asia Pacific growth has been driven not only by new Customers, but importantly, by good business growth from our existing Airline Customers. We also hope to be making some new regional announcements soon.'

Echalier continued, 'In our existing Customer base, we have seen both Air KBZ (Myanmar) and US-Bangla Airlines (Bangladesh) launch their first international routes in the past months, Air KBZ having also recently launched its first Code Share agreement, significantly adding to already impressive business growth. Other Customers, such as Nauru Airlines, APEX Airlines and Air Mandalay have also been experiencing good growth in passengers'.

Echalier stated, 'Our strong commitment to the Asia Pacific region will ensure that we further scale-up our regional presence as our business grows here, ensuring that all of the required functions can be managed in the time zone of our Customers, an essential part of our Service strategy. This is a very exciting time in the region and TTI's growth shows that our regional focus is on target'.
