About Sterrenburg

Sterrenburg in Dordrecht has always been a well-functioning center in the city. Over the past two years, the center was transformed from an outdated convenience shopping center into a modern and vibrant Full Service Center. Sterrenburg now offers a multitude of visiting alibi's next to shopping and already shows a significant footfall increase when compared to 2019. From a sustainability perspective, the center is now connected to district heating and is no longer using gas.
