Accsys Technologies PLC
("Accsys", the "Group" or the "Company")

Progressive Research Initiation Note Publication

Accsys, the world's leading supplier of premium, high performance and sustainable wood building materials, has appointed Progressive Research to initiate coverage and provide ongoing equity research on the Group. An initiation research document by Alastair Stewart was published on 9 December 2025 and is freely available to retail and institutional investors.

You can access the full note here.

Research note summary: Transformed product, transformative strategy

"Anglo-Dutch speciality timber products manufacturer Accsys Technologies stands to benefit from worldwide growth in demand for its technology to effectively transform softwood into hardwood. The six-year 'FOCUS' strategy, detailed by the new management team in January 2025, is already appearing transformative. We initiate coverage with an assumption that operational gearing and financial deleveraging will support a move to strong profitability by FY30E."
