

Court ruling appealed to Supreme Court

Reference is made to the stock exchange notice from Nordic Mining ASA ("Nordic Mining" or the "Company") on 24 October 2022 relating to the ruling from Borgarting Court of Appeal in the case between its subsidiary, Nordic Rutile ("NRU"), and Artic Mineral Resources ("AMR").

AMR has appealed the ruling that confirms that NRU – within the limits of the Norwegian Mining Act – has the rights to all minerals in the Engebø deposit. The ruling is in line with the operating licence granted by the Ministry of Trade, Industry and Fisheries in May 2022. Both the Oslo District Court and Borgarting Court of Appeal ruled in favour of NRU, and concluded that AMR shall pay NRU's legal expenses. NRU maintain that AMR's claims have no merit and will continue to defend the case rigorously

"We are confident that the legal outcome will be in our favour, should the Supreme Court allow the case to be heard", says CEO Ivar S. Fossum.
