Hafnia Limited (ticker: HAFNI), a leading oil and chemical tanker owner and operator, announces that it has qualified to begin trading as of today on the OTCQX® Best Market, New York under the ticker (OTCQX: HAFNF). Trading will commence at (09.30 EST / 15.30 CET). OTC Markets Group Inc. (OTCQX: OTCM), is an operator of regulated markets for over 12,000 U.S. and international securities. Trading on this platform will further meet our objective in providing transparent trading measures for U.S. based investors. Additionally, the streamlining of market standards will additionally enable us to utilize qualified reporting measures from the Oslo Børs to make financial disclosures and news readily available in the U.S.

“By joining the OTCQX Market, we intend to generate wider interest and recognition with US based investors. We see first-hand the value created for companies that choose to cross-trade on OTCQX, and we are confident the widened US investor base will be an asset in generating higher trading volumes and stronger shareholder returns.” says Hafnia CEO Mikael Skov.
