Future prospects

- The economic outlook going forward is characterized by high interest rates, high inflation, lower demand from our trading partners and thus weaker growth
 - ✓ Weaker growth will contribute to somewhat higher unemployment, but employment growth in Møre og Romsdal is expected to be somewhat higher than in the rest of the country and unemployment will probably peak at just over 2 per cent
 - ✓ In NHO's (confederation of Norwegian enterprises) latest national member survey, the companies in our region express the highest confidence in the development in the next 6 months
 - ✓ Uncertainty linked to the banking sector in the US and Europe contributed to considerable nervousness in the financial markets in March. Among other things, interest rate expectations fell sharply. After this, however, confidence in the banks seems to have picked up. If no new problem banks of importance appears, the central banks will therefore probably continue to raise their key interest rates as planned in order to dampen inflationary pressure
- The bank is solid and has good liquidity, and will continue to be a strong and committed supporter for our customers and our region

COMMITTED-CLOSE-CAPABLE
