1 Risk Factors

Investing in bonds issued by Olav Thon Eiendom AS involves inherent risks. Prospective investors should carefully consider, among other things, the risk factors set out in this Base Prospectus before making an investment decision.

A prospective investor should carefully consider all the risks related to the Company and should consult his or her own expert advisors as to the suitability of an investment in bonds issued by the Company. An investment in bonds entails significant risks and is suitable only for investors who understand the risk factors associated with this type of investment and who can afford a loss of all or part of the investment. Against this background, an investor should thus make a careful assessment of the Company, its creditworthiness and its prospects before deciding to invest, including its current and future tax position. As the Company is the parent company of the Group and primarily a holding company, the risk factors for Olav Thon Eiendom AS and the Group are deemed to be equivalent for the purpose of this Base Prospectus unless otherwise stated.

The Company believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in bonds issued by the Company. It applies for all risk factors that, if materialized, and depending on the circumstances, may have an adverse effect on the Company and which may reduce anticipated revenue and profitability, ultimately resulting in a potential insolvency situation.

1.1 Risks Related to the company

Property and rental market risk

Olav Thon Eiendom AS's revenues are predominantly derived from rental income from its portfolio of shopping centres, commercial properties, and hotels located in Norway and Sweden, as of year-end 2025, investment properties were valued at NOK 60 961 million, representing approximately 93% of the Group's total assets. The Group's financial performance is therefore directly dependent on occupancy rates, achievable rent levels, and the market value of its properties.

Tenant demand for premises across the portfolio — and in particular among retail tenants in shopping centres, which account for a significant share of the Group's rental income — is sensitive to private consumption, employment levels, and consumer confidence. A material deterioration in the Norwegian or Swedish macroeconomic environment, such as rising unemployment, reduced private consumption, or a contraction in GDP, could therefore weaken tenant performance across the portfolio and reduce both rental income and property values, manifesting in tenant bankruptcies, lease terminations, and reduced expansion activity, and translating into higher vacancy and downward pressure on achievable rent levels. The same macroeconomic environment also drives the market yields applied in property valuations through its effect on interest rates, risk premia, and investor demand for commercial real estate, such that an adverse macroeconomic development would be expected to reduce rental income and increase valuation yields concurrently, with a direct and material impact on the carrying value of the portfolio.

A materialisation of one or more of these factors could have a material adverse effect on the Group's rental income, property values, financial position, and results of operations. The table below presents a sensitivity analysis as of the balance sheet date, showing the estimated change in fair value of the Group's owned investment properties under different yield and rent level scenarios:

Fair value	Rent level
Yield	-10%	Unchanged	+10%
-1,0%	65 100	72 264	79 428
-0,5 %	59 454	65 991	72 527
Unchanged	54 717	60 751	66 738
+0,5 %	50 686	56 249	61 811
+1,0%	47 214	52 391	57 568

Based on the Group's property portfolio as of year-end 2025, a yield increase of 100 basis points across the portfolio would reduce the estimated fair value of investment properties by approximately NOK 8 360 million, while a reduction in market rents of 10% would reduce fair value by approximately NOK 6 034 million.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group may not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Group's liquidity reserves at year-end 2025 amounted to NOK 9 021 million, comprising cash reserves, undrawn credit facilities and un-mortgaged properties. The debt portfolio had an average residual term of 3.7 years, and 21% of the debt is due for repayment within one year.

The Group is exposed to the risk that refinancing of maturing debt cannot be achieved on acceptable terms, or at all, in particular during periods of market disruption or deteriorating credit conditions. The Group's debt portfolio consists of long-term credit facilities with Nordic banks and direct borrowing in the capital markets in Norway and Sweden, and the Group's ability to service and refinance this debt is dependent on continued access to these markets.

The Group's bond issues and bank credit facilities contain financial covenants and cross-default provisions. The most relevant covenants for the Group are (i) negative pledge restrictions under its bond issues, which limit the Group's ability to grant security over its assets, and (ii) financial covenants in its bank facilities linked to interest coverage ratio (ICR) and equity ratio. These covenants are sensitive to reductions in rental income, increases in interest expenses and declines in property values. Although the Group currently maintains comfortable headroom to the applicable covenant thresholds, there can be no assurance that such headroom will be maintained under prolonged adverse market conditions. Any covenant breach could constitute an event of default and, due to cross-default provisions in the Group's financing arrangements, could trigger early repayment obligations under multiple debt instruments simultaneously. Such an outcome could have a material adverse effect on the Group's liquidity, refinancing capacity and financial position.

Consumer behaviour and structural retail risk

Olav Thon Eiendom AS 's shopping centres accounted for approximately 78% of the Group's total rental income in 2025. The Group is therefore materially exposed to structural changes in the retail sector. In 2025, the Group's Norwegian shopping centres recorded retail sales of NOK59 190million, and Swedish shopping centres recorded retail sales of SEK 3 919 million, representing a change of 3,7% and 0,3% respectively compared to the prior year.

A continued shift from physical to online retail reduces footfall and tenant turnover in the Group's shopping centres. Where leases include turnover-based rent components, a decline in tenant sales directly reduces rental income. Sustained underperformance among tenants may also lead to increased vacancy, rent renegotiations at lower levels, or tenant insolvencies. The Group actively manages its tenant mix and invests in the modernisation of its centres, including food and beverage concepts, service offerings, and digital integration. However, there is uncertainty that these measures will be sufficient to fully offset the long-term structural shift in consumer behaviour, and a sustained decline in physical retail activity could adversely affect the Group's rental income, occupancy rates, and property values.

Interest rate risk

As of year-end 2025, 36% of the Group's interest-bearing debt carried a floating interest rate. The Group's total interest-bearing debt amounted to NOK 22 419 million, with an average interest rate duration of 2,7 years. A 1 percentage point increase in market interest rates would increase the Group's annual interest expenses by approximately NOK 102 million. The Group partially mitigates this risk through interest rate hedging instruments. As of year-end 2025, 64% of total debt was at a fixed rate, with an average fixed-rate period of 4,1 years. The hedging strategy does not eliminate interest rate risk entirely, and a sustained period of rising rates could materially increase financing costs and reduce the Group's cash flow available for debt service.

Currency risk

The Group operates in both Norway and Sweden and is exposed to fluctuations in the NOK/SEK exchange rate. Swedish operations contribute to the Group's consolidated revenues and asset values but are denominated in Swedish kroner. A strengthening of the Norwegian kroner relative to the Swedish kroner will therefore reduce the Group's reported revenues, earnings and asset values when translated into NOK for consolidation purposes.

The most material currency exposure arises on the equity portion of the Group's Swedish shopping centre investments. At year-end 2025, the Group maintained a balance sheet hedge ratio of 83%, meaning that Swedish kroner-denominated interest-bearing debt covered 83% of the Group's Swedish kroner-denominated assets. The remaining 17% of Swedish assets are unhedged and directly exposed to NOK/SEK movements. A depreciation of the Swedish kroner against the Norwegian kroner will reduce the NOK value of this unhedged portion and negatively impact the Group's consolidated equity.

At year-end 2025, 88% of the Group's interest-bearing debt was denominated in Norwegian kroner at an average interest rate of 4.5%, while 12% was denominated in Swedish kroner at an average interest rate of 2.8%. Although the Swedish kroner debt serves a hedging function, a material and sustained appreciation of the Norwegian kroner could still result in a net negative translation effect on the Group's consolidated financial statements.

Credit Risk

The Group's credit risk primarily relates to the risk of financial loss resulting from tenants' failure to pay the agreed rent. Olav Thon Eiendom AS has a large number of leasing contracts, and a large portion of the tenants are international and national retail chains. The rental contracts have a balanced maturity structure, and tenants normally provide security for their lease obligations. Nonetheless, the risk related to tenants' failure to pay is one of the most important risk parameters in the valuation of real estate and is considered highly relevant and may have a material adverse impact on the Group's financial position.

Historically, rent losses have been limited, representing less than 0,5 % of the Group's rental income in recent years. However, an economic environment similar to that of the early 1990s—characterised by high unemployment, banks with reduced capacity or willingness to lend, and a subsequent rise in tenant bankruptcies—could lead to materially higher rental losses.

Credit risk also arises in transactions with banks and financial institutions in connection with entering into agreements involving credit facilities, financial instruments and financial investments. The Group's undrawn credit facilities at year-end 2025 amounted to NOK 8 903 million and interest rate agreements of NOK 20 150 million and SEK 2 400 million. Should counterparty banks fail to honour these commitments, the Group's available liquidity could be materially reduced, with direct consequences for its ability to meet debt obligations as they fall due

1.2 Risks Related to the bonds

Credit risk

The Bonds are unsecured obligations of Olav Thon Eiendom AS, and bondholders are therefore exposed to the general credit risk of the issuer. The Company currently has (q1 2026) 23 bond issues outstanding with a total nominal value of NOK 20 707 million and SEK 1 300m.

If Olav Thon Eiendom AS were to become subject to insolvency proceedings or enforcement actions against a significant portion of its property assets, bondholders may not recover the full principal amount of their investment. Recoveries would depend on the net proceeds realised from the Company's property assets after satisfaction of any senior or secured claims.

Security of the bonds

Olav Thon Eiendom AS has issued unsecured bonds and may issue both secured and unsecured Bonds under this Base Prospectus. The security status of each bond issue will be specified in the applicable Final Terms. Where the Company has issued or issues secured bonds, the holders of such bonds will have priority over the assets securing their debt ahead of unsecured bondholders.

In an enforcement or insolvency scenario, secured bondholders may enforce their security without the consent of unsecured bondholders. Assets remaining after repayment of secured debt may be insufficient to repay all amounts outstanding under unsecured bonds. Investors should carefully review the Final Terms for each bond issue to understand the security position of the specific bonds in which they invest.

In addition to the priority of secured bondholders, certain claims rank ahead of unsecured obligations by operation of law, including claims by employees, tax authorities, and other statutorily preferred creditors. In an insolvency scenario, such preferred claims would be satisfied before any amounts become available to holders of unsecured bonds, which may result in bondholders recovering less than the full principal amount of their investment.

Market risk

The market value of the Bonds will fluctuate during their lifetime in response to changes in market interest rates, credit spreads applicable to real estate issuers, and investor perception of Olav Thon Eiendom AS's creditworthiness. The Company currently has 20 bond issues outstanding in the Norwegian bond market with tenors typically ranging from 3 to 10 years and 3 bond issues outstanding in the Swedish bond market with tenors typically ranging from 2-3 years. The bond issues have fixed and floating rate structures.

In periods of rising interest rates, credit spreads for real estate companies have historically widened, reducing the market value of outstanding bonds. This price effect is more pronounced for fixed-rate bonds with longer tenors. A 1 percentage point increase in credit spreads applicable to the Company's bonds would, all else being equal, reduce the market value of a 5Y year floating rate bond by approximately -4,24%. Investors may therefore realise a loss if they sell their bonds prior to maturity during a period of adverse market conditions, regardless of the underlying operational performance of the Company.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that there may be limited or no market for the Bonds, which could adversely affect an investor's ability to sell the Bonds at a desired time or price, or at all. The liquidity depends on among other the investors' interest in the bond market in general and particularly in the Issuer as a property player with operations within shopping centre and commercial properties. Missing demand of the bonds may incur a loss on the bondholder.

Sustainable financing

Olav Thon Eiendom AS has not issued any so-called "GSSS" bonds (Green, Social, Sustainability, Sustainability-Linked) as of the date of this Base Prospectus but may in the future. If Olav Thon Eiendom AS were to issue GSSS bonds, these would be structured in accordance with the Issuer's relevant framework for sustainable financing (the Framework). There are, however, no reservations as to whether this will meet each individual investor's investment criteria and each investor will have to make its individual assessment of the criteria.

Any failure by Olav Thon Eiendom AS to comply with, or adapt to, its potential Framework will not constitute a default under the terms of the bonds. Accordingly, such failure to comply will not give bondholders any legal rights under the bond terms beyond those set otherwise provided. However, failure to comply with the Framework may affect the eligibility of the bonds under certain investors' internal investment criteria, mandates or sustainability requirements. As a result, the bonds may cease to qualify as "GSSS" bonds. This may have a negative impact on an investor's assessment of the bonds, the market value of the bonds, the ability to sell the bonds at desired prices or the timing of any sale.

9.2 Administrative, management and supervisory bodies conflicts of interest

The Olav Thon Foundation indirectly owns 100% of the Company's share capital through its wholly owned company, Thon Gruppen AS. The purpose of the Olav Thon Foundation is to exercise stable and long-term ownership of Thon Gruppen AS and its underlying companies, as well as to distribute funds for charitable purposes.

Thon Gruppen AS operates a broad business portfolio including real estate, hotel and restaurant operations, retail, industry, and more. Its subsidiary, Thon Holding AS, serves as the business manager/administrator for the majority of Thon Gruppen AS's activities.

Olav Thon Eiendom AS has no administration apart from the CEO. Thon Holding AS (and its closely related predecessors) has served as business manager and administrator for the Company and its subsidiaries since its stock exchange listing in 1983. Through the management agreement, Olav Thon Eiendom AS is granted full access to Thon Holding AS's resources in property management and general business operations. The agreement was renewed for a five-year term starting June 30, 2024, and will thereafter automatically be extended for successive two-year periods unless terminated by either party 12 months prior to the end of a contract period. Olav Thon Eiendom AS and its subsidiaries further retain the unilateral right to terminate the agreement at any time with 12 months' notice, or with shorter notice in connection with asset sales or similar circumstances.

The management fee amounts to 5% of the principal's operating revenues, excluding non-operating income such as gains on sales. If specific circumstances warrant different remuneration for certain services under the agreement — for example, if third parties perform parts of the management duties or the nature, scope, or complexity of the tasks suggests alternative compensation — a separate fee may be agreed upon based on market conditions. The manager also has the right, subject to agreement with the principal, to invoice for specific goods/services not covered by the agreement.

For 2025, the total fee amounted to NOK 2 200 thousand for the Company, and MNOK 216 for the Group.

Potential conflicts of interest might arise in situations where potential tenants for instance are searching for new locations or debt investors are searching for "Thon-exposure". Thon Holding AS and its subsidiaries have a property portfolio who, to some extent, are quite similar to Olav Thon Eiendom AS with regards to segment and location. If tenants are searching for locations both Thon Holding and Olav Thon Eiendom AS could offer, a conflict of interest might arise. The same goes if debt investors, for instance banks or bond investors, are indicating an interest to lend to Thon Holding and Olav Thon Eiendom AS, but with no clear preference to which one of them.

Other than as stated above there are, to the Company's knowledge, no potential conflicts of interest between any duties carried out on behalf of the Company, by the persons referred to in this section and their private interests or other duties. The risk of conflicts of interest has been reduced as Thon Gruppen now holds 100% ownership in both Thon Holding and Olav Thon Eiendom AS.

10 Major shareholders

The Company's share capital as at the date of this Base Prospectus consists of NOK 101,478,908 divided into 101,478,908 shares with a nominal value of NOK 1.00 each. Olav Thon Eiendom AS has only one share class, and all shares carry equal rights in the Company.

Following the completed acquisition by Thon Gruppen AS, the Company is now a wholly-owned subsidiary of Thon Gruppen AS, which in turn is owned by the Olav Thon Foundation. As a result, Thon Gruppen AS holds 100% of the shares and voting rights in the Company.

Olav Thon Eiendom AS is no longer listed on Euronext Oslo Børs following its acquisition by Thon Gruppen AS and the subsequent delisting of the Company.

10.1 Ownership

The Issuer is directly owned and controlled by Thon Gruppen AS, which holds 100% of the shares and voting rights in the Company following the delisting and full acquisition of Olav Thon Eiendom AS. Thon Gruppen AS is in turn wholly owned by the Olav Thon Foundation, which exercises long-term and stable ownership over the Thon Group.

The nature of the control is that the Olav Thon Foundation, through its ownership of Thon Gruppen AS, ultimately determines the strategic direction, governance structure and key decisions of the Issuer. The control is exercised through ordinary corporate governance mechanisms, including the general meeting and the appointment of the Board of Directors.

The Issuer is not aware of any arrangements that may result in an abuse of such control. The governance framework of the Thon Group, including oversight by the Olav Thon Foundation, is designed to ensure responsible, long-term and non-abusive exercise of ownership.

10.2 Change of control of the company

There are no arrangements, known to the Company, the operation of which may at a subsequent date result in a change of control of the Company.

What are the key risk factors that are specific to the issuer
Key risks related to the Issuer: Property and rental market risk Olav Thon Eiendom AS 's revenues are predominantly derived from rental income from its portfolio of shopping centres, commercial properties, and hotels located in Norway and Sweden. As of year-end 2025, investment properties were valued at NOK 60 961 million, representing approximately 93% of the Group's total assets. The Group's financial performance is therefore directly dependent on occupancy rates, achievable rent levels, and the market value of its properties. Liquidity riskLiquidity risk is the risk that the Group may not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Group's liquidity reserves at year-end 2025 amounted to NOK 9 021 million, comprising cash reserves, undrawn credit facilities and un-mortgaged properties. The debt portfolio had an average residual term of 3.7 years, and 21% of the debt is due for repayment within one year. Consumer behaviour and structural retail risk Olav Thon Eiendom AS 's shopping centres accounted for approximately 78% of the Group's total rental income in 2025. The Group is therefore materially exposed to structural changes in the retail sector. In 2025, the Group's Norwegian shopping centres recorded retail sales of NOK59 190million, and Swedish shopping centres recorded retail sales of SEK 3 919 million, representing a change of 3,7% and 0,3% respectively compared to the prior year.

Interest rate risk

As of year-end 2025, 36% of the Group's interest-bearing debt carried a floating interest rate. The Group's total interest-bearing debt amounted to NOK 22 419 million, with an average interest rate duration of 2,7 years. A 1 percentage point increase in market interest rates would increase the Group's annual interest expenses by approximately NOK 102 million.

Currency risk

The Group operates in both Norway and Sweden and is exposed to fluctuations in the NOK/SEK exchange rate. Swedish operations contribute to the Group's consolidated revenues and asset values but are denominated in Swedish kroner. A strengthening of the Norwegian kroner relative to the Swedish kroner will therefore reduce the Group's reported revenues, earnings and asset values when translated into NOK for consolidation purposes

Credit Risk

The Group's credit risk primarily relates to the risk of financial loss resulting from tenants' failure to pay the agreed rent. Olav Thon Eiendom AS has a large number of leasing contracts, and a large portion of the tenants are international and national retail chains. The rental contracts have a balanced maturity structure, and tenants normally provide security for their lease obligations

Key risks related to the Bonds:

Credit risk The Bonds are unsecured obligations of Olav Thon Eiendom AS, and bondholders are therefore exposed to the general credit risk of the issuer. The Company currently has (q1 2026) 23 bond issues outstanding with a total nominal value of NOK 20 707 million and SEK 1 300m.

If Olav Thon Eiendom AS were to become subject to insolvency proceedings or enforcement actions against a significant portion of its property assets, bondholders may not recover the full principal amount of their investment. Recoveries would depend on the net proceeds realised from the Company's property assets after satisfaction of any senior or secured claims.

Market risk

The market value of the Bonds will fluctuate during their lifetime in response to changes in market interest rates, credit spreads applicable to real estate issuers, and investor perception of Olav Thon Eiendom AS's creditworthiness. The Company currently has 20 bond issues outstanding in the Norwegian bond market with tenors typically ranging from 3 to 10 years and 3 bond issues outstanding in the Swedish bond market with tenors typically ranging from 2-3 years. The bond issues have fixed and floating rate structures.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that there may be limited or no market for the Bonds, which could adversely affect an investor's ability to sell the Bonds at a desired time or price, or at all. The liquidity depends on among other the investors' interest in the bond market in general and particularly in the Issuer as a property player with operations within shopping centre and commercial properties. Missing demand of the bonds may incur a loss on the bondholder.
