3. All requested series are subject to the Market Makers' and/or Liquidity Providers' obligation to maintain a two-sided market.
4. Euronext distinguishes between standard and non-standard requested series.
5. When a series is requested, the underlying value at the time of the request will be used to calculate the minimum number of series that should be listed according to the initial series listing policy. These series determine the range between which standard series can be requested.
6. Standard SOR are classed as:
  - series that are requested in between the range of series as described under point 4;
  - series with a remaining lifetime up to and including 12 months;
  - series that are one interval smaller than the interval that is applicable according to the Series Introduction Policy.
7. The requested standard SOR for index option contracts should at least be a multiple of the following intervals:
  - AEX-Index® option contracts - 1 index point
  - CAC 40® index option contracts - 25 index points
  - BEL 20® index option contracts - 25 index points
  - OBX® index option contracts - 5 index points
  - PSI 20® index option contracts - 25 index points
8. Non-standard SOR:
  - Immediately after the introduction of a non-standard requested series, the Member making the request for the series should trade the number of contracts that is at least equal to the Large-in-Scale (LIS) threshold of the option class concerned, as defined on the Euronext Wholesale Trading Offer.
  - Non-standard SOR can be a maximum of 50% away from the underlying value at the moment of the request, up to a remaining lifetime of 12 months. Non-standard SOR with a remaining lifetime exceeding 12 months can be a maximum of 100% away from the underlying value at the moment of the request.
9. The exercise price of the non-standard SOR must be a multiple of the series interval according to the following table:

NON-STANDARD SERIES ON REQUEST
Exercise prices	Interval	Examples of non-standard Series on Request
0.10 - < 10.00	0.10	0.20 - 5.70 - 9.50
10.00 - < 100.00	0.50	11.50 - 55.00 - 97.50
100.00 - < 1,000.00	5.00	150.00 - 565.00 - 935.00
≥ 1,000.00	50.00	1,250.00 - 2,000.00 - 5,550.00

10. In order to ensure that the most appropriate series are introduced, Euronext will continue to monitor the Series On Request policy and reserves the right to deviate from and amend the Series Introduction policy, should market conditions require.
